Personal Statement

My family is a big influence of who I am today. Its because of them I feel I have strong morals and values. I fell in love with the game of softball shortly after I started playing it. Three things this sport has taught me over the years are teamwork, dedication, and perseverance. My academic goals for high school are to have 2 AP classes and maintain a GPA above 3.5. My college academic goals are to attend a division 1 college and major in medicine or economics. Some unique characteristics that describe me are goal-minded, outgoing, funny, and an all-around people person.
